Entry Level Data Researcher – Hone your skills in a supportive work environment

We are a growing technology company based in Sherwood Park, AB that is elevating the transportation industry. We build web-based tools, websites and plugins that help our customers sell more and reach their potential.

We're looking for an Entry Level Data Researcher to join our team. In this role, you will work under the mentorship of our data scientist and collaborate with our team of experienced programmers. This role is designed to develop your programming and technical skills.

You'll love this role if you are passionate about improving your skills, interested in working with next-generation technologies, enjoy collaborating with others on a team and are detail-oriented.

Requirements:

- Fast typing skills (60+ WPM).
- Intermediate to advanced Excel skills or a beginner understanding of SQL.
- Be registered as a full-time student in a technology program at a Canadian post-secondary institution.
- Be a Canadian citizen.

Responsibilities:

- Facilitating the cleaning and warehousing of error-free data.
- Collecting and cataloging data to support project teams.
- Ensuring accuracy for data and analytical models.
- Finding and eradicating data processing errors.
- Supporting existing data pipelines.

What You Get:

- Opportunities for training in entry-level Python or C#
- Opportunities to gain experience in RDBMS
- Opportunities to develop and enhance our database architecture
- Hourly Wage of $15-17

The Company: Truck Part Solutions is a growing software company that is dedicated to bringing the latest cutting edge technology to our customers in the form of simple, easy to use, web-based tools.

- We are forging the way in our industry, so you're input will affect an international audience.
- We're competitive, and we like to win (we're here to support you in making work-class products and we also run a competitive foosball league).
- Don't know much about trucks? It's okay! Only a few of us did when we were hired.
- We've been around for over 25 years, and we're not going anywhere.
